ANNUAL MEETING

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, June 16, 1909.

THE Ninety-third Annual Meeting of the Congregational Education Society was held Wednesday afternoon, June 16, 1909, at two o'clock, in Pilgrim Hall, Congregational House, Boston, Massachusetts.

The meeting was called to order by the President, W. R. Campbell, D.D.

Prayer was offered by F. E. Emrich, D.D., of Brighton.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, and ordered to be printed in the usual form.

The Treasurer's report, together with that of the Auditor, was presented and accepted and ordered to be placed on file.

The report of the Directors was read by the Secretary and ordered to be printed. It was Voted, That the Directors consider the question of suggesting such changes in the Constitution, relating to the time and place of holding the Annual Meeting, as shall secure larger attendance and increased interest.

A Nominating Committee, consisting of Rev. S. C. Bushnell, Asher Anderson, D.D., and Rev. James F. Brodie, was chosen to nominate officers for the next Annual Meeting, and to present a list of names for life membership. The committee was instructed to report in print.

The following officers were elected:

President, William R. Campbell, D.D.

Vice-President, Henry C. King, D.D.

Corresponding Secretary, Rev. Edward S. Tead.

Treasurer, Samuel F. Wilkins, Esq.

Auditor, H. N. Ackerman, Esq.

Directors for the term ending 1912 were elected as follows: B. F. Hamilton, D.D., C. B. Rice, D.D., G. S. F. Savage, D.D., W. E. Barton, D.D., Mr. Thomas Weston, Mr. Edward P. Merriam.

Life members were elected as follows: Mr. E. A. Osbornson, Chicago, Ill.; Mr. Samuel J. Elder, Winchester, Mass.; Mr. F. A. Rugg, Greenfield, Mass.; Mr. Victor L. Loring, Wellesley Hills, Mass.

John A. Hamilton, D.D., was chosen Honorary Secretary.
Voted to adjourn.

Attest: EDWARD S. TEAD,
Clerk.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS

THE Ninety-third Report of the Directors of the Congregational Education Society is herewith submitted.

The colleges upon the Society's list are: Rollins College, Florida; Redfield College, South Dakota; Fairmount College, Kansas; Kingfisher College, Oklahoma; Northland College, North Wisconsin.

Kingfisher College is still without a president.

Redfield College secured the services of Rev. Noah C. Hirschy, of Ohio.

Northland College, formerly known as North Wisconsin Academy, was last year incorporated as a college, and was so classified on the Society's list by vote of the Directors, October 12, 1908. It as yet offers only the first two years of the college course, but it is expected that when the $100,000 endowment has been secured the other years will be added.

The prospect of a collegiate institution at Billings, Montana, is promising, and within a year an organization will probably be completed.

The Society, by appropriation and designated gifts, has been able to forward to these five institutions $16,873.

The following academies look to the Society for care and help: Chadron Academy, Nebraska; Franklin, Nebraska; Weeping Water, Nebraska; Gates, Nebraska; Iberia Academy, Missouri; Kidder Institute, Missouri; Phillips, North Dakota; Procter Academy, Utah; Gordon Academy, Utah; Rogers Academy, Arkansas; Northwestern Academy, Oklahoma; Southern Collegiate Institute, Illinois; Ward Academy, South Dakota; Southern Kansas Academy, Kansas; Sierra Polytechnic Institute, Northern California.

Windom Academy has secured a sufficient endowment to become independent of the Society's aid.

To these secondary schools the Society, by appropriations and special gifts, has been able to give $37,682.

The Directors from time to time are called upon to investigate the claims of new academies in rural sections where high schools have not yet been authorized by state statutes. To such claims careful scrutiny is given in order that the contributions the Society may deem best to make may be wisely expended. Unlike the East, the West has yet made no provision for high schools in country districts; and Christian people in the West where young churches are being planted feel the need of religious schools of the secondary grade as supplementary to the successful building of a religious community.

A traveler from the West a few weeks ago reported to the Secretary that the leaders of the church in a certain town, and of the town itself, were graduates of one of these academies.

From the West and the Southwest come calls for the Society's recognition of these young and struggling institutions, and the work of fostering and aiding them will have to be carried on for years to come.

There is as yet not a single religious school of any denomination in Wyoming, which has an area larger than New England and a population of nearly 100,000.

Arizona is an inviting field for the introduction of religious high grade secondary schools.

Mission schools are located at Salt Lake, Provo, Heber, Bountiful, Lehi, Coalville, and Vernal, Utah, and at Albuquerque, Atrisco, Cubero, San Rafael, San Mateo, and Seboyeta in New Mexico.

In these fields the conditions are shaped largely by the presence of crude and, in New Mexico, of an almost pagan religion.

Two teachers this year in New Mexico, formerly connected with the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, report that the conditions in New Mexico are worse than in India and Turkey.

The Directors are gratified that they are able to report the opening of the long-desired Industrial School for Mexican youth.

The opening of this school marks an enlargement of the scope of the Society's work, for it is a recognition of the new purpose and plan in the educational world to train hand as well as head and heart.

This school was opened in September with twenty pupils, and is designed to train Mexican youth of both sexes in agriculture, and in industrial and household arts. It is the only coeducational industrial school for Mexicans in the territory; for while the State University is open to all young people, as a matter of fact there are few if any Mexicans enrolled as students, for the reason that they do not understand English well enough to take the courses. Both the Presbyterians and Methodists have industrial schools, but they are not co-educational. It has been left, therefore, for the Education Society to try the experiment of bringing both sexes into the same institution, even in face of the native prejudice against such a method.

It is believed that this experiment will be successful in giving an idea of the right relations of the sexes and a higher social order, where men and women, side by side, struggle for the attainment of a higher and purer civilization.

Because of its location on the banks of that river it is named the Rio Grande Industrial School.

Rev. A. C. Heyman, a graduate of the Chicago Theological Seminary of 1908, the son of a German farmer, is principal, and well fitted for his task. Miss Olive G. Gibson is preceptress. Miss Louise Ludwig is matron of the girls' hall and instructor in household arts. Rev. S. L. Hernandez assists Mr. Heyman and teaches mechanics, and also conducts chapel service.

The old ranch house was enlarged for a girls' hall, and a new building, called Heald Hall, in honor of Rev. J. H. Heald, D.D., superintendent of the Society's schools in the territory, was erected for a boys' dormitory and recitation hall. The basement has been temporarily fitted up for a carpenter's shop.

The money by which the ranch of 160 acres was purchased and the new hall erected was collected largely through the exertions of Miss Honora DeBusk and Miss Olive G. Gibson during successful campaigns in the East.

The special feature in the Utah field was the generous gift of $1,122 by the citizens of Provo, irrespective of creed, for repairs on Procter Academy and a lot of land for a much needed dormitory.

It is to be hoped that the donations of friends of this work will enable the Society to erect a suitable dormitory during the present year, and thus provide a Christian home for the youth who would gladly avail themselves of such a privilege.

In the Department of Student Aid, 224 young men preparing for the Christian ministry have received financial assistance, an increase of 22 over last year. Of these, 70 are foreigners intending to minister to churches in this country. The nations represented by these young men are Norway, Wales, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Italy, Greece, Albania, Turkey, India, Finland, Bohemia, Austria, Bulgaria, Poland, and Japan—16. Four young men under the Ward Scholarship have been assisted, making a total of 228, and the amount of money given to student aid is $10,865, an increase of $1,245.

The Ward Scholarship amounts to $4,000, and was given by Mrs. J. Ward, of Newton, the income of which is set apart for the benefit of Christian young men seeking an education.

From the applications for financial assistance from young persons of both sexes not preparing for missionary or religious work, it is evident that the Society could widen its usefulness if additional student aid funds were in hand. Here is an appeal to those persons who are especially interested in earnest and needy young persons seeking an education.

The Society holds $157,565 in permanent scholarship funds, but the income from these funds is not sufficient to enable the Society to render as efficient service as it might to the churches.

The record of the year's work is made interesting in the event of the removal of the Theological School for Finns from Revere to Cambridge, Massachusetts. In the change it entered into possession of a new name, The Congregational Institute for Finns. A roomy, private house was hired by the Society in Cambridgeport, about a mile from Harvard University.

M. ALICE ISELY, TEACHER
PROCTER AND VERNAL, UTAH

MISS MEDA HESS, M.D.
SEBOYETA, NEW MEXICO

The instruction in Finnish has been given by the president, Rev. K. F. Henrikson, and Mr. Risto Lappala, a graduate of the Institute. The professors of Andover Theological Seminary have generously given courses of lectures, and the students of the Seminary have given instruction in English.

The Massachusetts Home Missionary Society is responsible for the salary of Principal Henrikson, as he acts as general missionary among the more than 20,000 Finns in the state.

The commencement exercises were held May 25 in the Prospect Street Church, Cambridgeport, when three young men and a young woman were graduated. The young men of the institute are all engaged in missionary work during the vacation.

The five young women who have been taking the studies for the past year have been invited to become members of the Schauffler Training School, Cleveland, Ohio, in September. This unpretentious work should receive the cordial support of our church.

In the department of support the services of representatives from the field have been secured during the year, and the needs of the Society have been widely set forth among the churches of New England and the Middle West. Miss M. Alice Isely, of Utah, has made nearly two hundred addresses. Pres. M. J. Fenenga, of Northland College, has interested a large following in the needs of the Northwest. Mrs. L. A. Collings, for many years stationed at Cubero, New Mexico, has helped to maintain the already deep interest in the Southwest land by her vivid portrayals of the needs of that section. Such a campaign necessarily adds to the cost of administration, but the requests of benevolent organizations in our churches for speakers and fresh intelligence seem to warrant this expenditure. 20,688 letters from teachers in Utah and New Mexico schools have been sent out to the different state woman's home missionary unions, besides thousands of leaflets on the general work.

REPORT OF WESTERN FIELD SECRETARY

Theodore Clifton, D.D.

THIS has been one of the best years in the history of the Western office, considering all things.

More effort has been put forth this year than ever before to induce the churches to give to our general fund. To this end personal letters were sent early in the year to more than two thousand pastors and churches. This has been followed up through the year with other personal letters and by a generous distribution of literature, as well as by addresses before churches, Sunday schools, Endeavor Societies, ladies' missionary societies, and state and local associations, for the general cause. No doubt this accounts, partly at least, for some increase in the number of contributing churches over any previous year.

While the number of churches that have given this year has been the largest in the history of the West, the income for the general fund has fallen a little below that of last year, which, by the way, was the largest in our history. At the same time, the income of designated money has risen considerably above that of last year. The Western churches and givers insist on designating their gifts themselves. This is but natural under the circumstances.

In November our schools in Utah and New Mexico were visited, and much good material was gathered for a more effective presentation of this department of our work. The Western churches need to be rallied to a more generous support of these mission schools through direct giving to the Education Society, as well as to the larger support of our colleges and academies nearer home. This rallying process has been going on for years, as well as an educational process, and both have been pursued with vigor during the year just closed.

Early in the year a special trip into Ohio was made, to speak for the general cause in some of the leading churches of Cleveland and Cincinnati, at local association meetings, and at a series of missionary rallies arranged by a local committee.

The last two weeks of the year were devoted to Kansas, speaking at the State Association for our general work, before the Kansas Woman's Home Missionary Union for our work in Utah and New Mexico, and in four of the strongest churches of the different denominations in Wichita in behalf of Fairmount College.

The ladies of Kansas pledged on the spot $100 for the proposed new dormitory building of Procter Academy, an example worthy of imitation by all the woman's home missionary unions of the whole country. During the few days spent in Wichita, the public-spirited friends of Fairmount College pledged $3,095, in addition to many thousands previously given. More than half of the big debt of $36,000 is now pledged, and the courageous president and trustees are working for final victory.

Three Sundays of the past year were preëmpted by dedication and installation sermons, and another by the Together Campaign. With these exceptions, exceptions that could not have been wisely or kindly avoided, about all the Sundays of the working year have been sacredly devoted to advocating the cause of our Education Society and taking offerings, whenever possible, for the general fund. But the new Apportionment Plan already referred to usually precludes an offering at the time the presentation is made, a distinct loss everywhere in immediate financial results over the good old way of taking the collection on the spot when the appeal is made.

During the year more than 115 addresses have been delivered, usually to large and responsive congregations. The hearing in this respect has been most satisfactory. Between Sundays a goodly sum has been gathered from individual givers for local institutions and passed through the national treasury in the regular way. In the last few months especially, an unusual number of urgent requests for the Western Secretary's personal help has reached the Chicago office, and within the past four weeks more than $12,000 has been secured in pledges for two of these institutions. So the old year closes a good work and the new year opens with unusual promise.

COLLEGES

Fairmount College, Kansas

Rev. Henry E. Thayer, President

The year which has just closed in Fairmount College marks one of the best that we have had in the history of the institution. We graduated our eleventh class from the college, numbering 16. This was one of the best classes that has so far left the college. Our academy sent forth a class of 18, many of whom will return to us for work the coming year.

In looking over the enrollment of the past year it is noticeable that the gain has been particularly in the college; the academy has held its own, but has made no appreciable increase. It is quite evident that the academy cannot be pushed to any great growth beyond what it is.

In our college department we have had a noticeable increase. The freshman class was one-third larger than ever before, and the additions to other classes in the college were very satisfactory. The coming year we will have a very strong senior class, and from present indications it will be the largest class that has ever left our college. Our canvasser in the field today reports that the promises for the incoming freshman class are good, and I believe that we are to bear up the reputation which we secured last year, that the college is our particular work. Counting enrollment in all departments we registered 321 students, which was a distinct gain over any previous year. Our work was of high character, and we added two or three new men to our faculty who gave dignity to the college. We were greatly pleased when the State University gave the rating of the colleges of the state and placed Fairmount second in the list. At present all of our work is fully credited in the State University.

During the past year we added one new department to our work, that of oratory and expression, and this has made the college more popular with the public.

The Fairmount library, which has cost us $40,000 and is the gift of Mr. Carnegie, was completed in the middle of the year, and has been in use for about four months. It is one of the handsomest buildings of its kind in the West, and is the pride of the city and of the school.

During the year we also erected a heating plant, which has been greatly needed for a number of years, and now we have sufficient heating capacity for years to come and everything planned on scientific basis.

Some months ago the students of Fairmount, realizing that it might be a number of years before the permanent gymnasium would be erected, undertook to secure funds among themselves and their friends sufficient to erect a temporary structure which would answer all the needs of our athletic department. This building was constructed during the year, and while not equal to the building that we shall have when the time comes for our permanent building, it is an honor to the institution, and affords a great deal of pleasure to our students.

In connection with this we have decided to open a department of physical training, and have chosen Mr. Roy K. Thomas, of Olivet College, as our physical director. Fairmount's popularity along athletic lines is well recognized in this part of the country, and the grade of work done by our students in athletics has been a strong advertising feature. We shall keep this department wholesome and yet allow it its full play. Altogether I believe the year was one of the best in the history of the institution, and we shall look forward to even better work in the future.

For several years there has been a growing deficit in our general expenses, and at the close of this year we faced a debt of $36,000. It became evident that this was in the way of all progressive work, and it was necessary to remove it if we expected to exist as a college and do the work that was required of us. Finding that the debt must be raised at home, the trustees decided to apportion the obligation among a dozen groups of friends, and to try to secure the whole amount by September 1. This plan called into action the students and faculty, former students of the college, friends in the immediate vicinity, trustees, and various other classes of friends. The canvass has gone forward slowly but surely, and at the present writing we believe that we can prophesy that the whole amount will be secured by the opening of the fall semester.

The Congregational churches of this locality are small and comparatively poor, and we have had to depend upon the general public. There are no rich men in this part of the country, but there is a general prosperity and a generous distribution of wealth. We have had to secure our funds in comparatively small amounts, but the splendid thing is that we have cultivated a host of friends, and we shall reap large results hereafter.

Kingfisher College, Kingfisher, Oklahoma

Rev. J. H. Parker, President Board of Trustees

Kingfisher College has just closed one of the most successful commencements in its history. This is the tenth class to graduate from our school, and each member received not only the A.B. from the college, but a teacher's life certificate from the state. The alumni now numbers 41, of which number 21 are men.

The large majority of these are teachers, while some are in business, some doing post-graduate work, and some in homes of their own. One of our graduates, Mr. Charles Mahaffie, is occupying the chair of jurisprudence in Princeton University; and another, Mr. J. P. Alley, has been appointed president of the University Preparatory School at Tonkawa, Oklahoma. All of our graduates are doing good work in their respective lines, and I feel sure no school of our size and age could show so fine a record. Everywhere the work of Kingfisher College is accepted at its full value, as is shown by the fact that Mr. Mahaffie completed his three years' course in Oxford, where he won a Rhodes Scholarship, in two years, one has been admitted to full standing in Harvard for post-graduate work next year, and another will receive his A.M. from Chicago University for this last year's work.

this school, under Prof. F. L. Drake as its most efficient head. The glee club and ladies' quartet have given a number of concerts in neighboring towns, and everywhere have met with a hearty and appreciative reception. Miss Lucile Martin, the instructor in violin, has conducted three orchestras beside her other work this year, and was unanimously elected leader of the town band should she choose to take it next fall.

In athletics our school has made an excellent record for its size, as compared with the much larger state institutions. This year two of our boys won the tennis championship, both in singles and doubles; in fact, we have held it nearly every year of our history, and we also stood second in other lines. A committee of three of the trustees was lately appointed to coöperate with the students in these matters, and greater things are being planned for next year.

Great improvements are being made on the college campus in the way of cement walks and a beautiful retaining wall and entrance in front of Parker Hall. This work is being done by the students, under the supervision of Prof. H. G. Titt, and the money is being raised to carry it on by Professor Drake, by subscription and by the giving of an opera, which was said by many to be the best thing ever seen in our city. This year a man is to be employed to look after the grounds and buildings, and marked improvements will be made in many ways. Even now an active canvass is being made for new pupils for next year, and Mr. Ray Lange, one of this year's graduates, who will be principal of the public schools at Hennessey, Oklahoma, next year, is in the country in this work.

Our college has done excellent work this year without a president, and we feel that it will do doubly well next year with a good man at its head.

Northland College, Ashland, Wisconsin

Rev. M. J. Fenenga, President

We are glad to report progress during the year.

The campus has been enlarged by ten acres, stumps and bushes eradicated, land plowed, drainage perfected and graded; the foundation of the dam across the valley constructed, showing the possibility of a beautiful campus pond; roads extended along the valley; two hundred trees set out last summer and five hundred to be set out this spring for wind-break along outer limits of campus.

The last five acres of campus cleared of stumps and brush; twenty-five acres now plowed and in cultivation ready to become productive for student labor and school supplies.

Garden land prepared to meet more fully the demands of the boarding department for the coming season.

The student industry department has been enlarged by the addition of brush and broom making machinery; overall, shirt and jacket machines and equipment donated; fence post forms made for the making of cement fence posts; printing equipment increased; two electric motors donated for running some of this machinery.

The students have manufactured two thousand pavement blocks to complete sidewalks on grounds as time and money permit, and three thousand building blocks for the construction of the contemplated Agricultural Building. Several hundred dozen brooms and brushes have been made since the enlargement and starting of machinery in this department in February.

Total enrollment of students in all departments, without recount, is 157, 92 of these taking full literary courses, representing leading young people of 52 different communities in the Northern region. All last year's graduates entered the college department. High school graduates and extras joining in college work numbered 14.

College classes did splendid work in college history, algebra, trigonometry, chemistry, English, Latin, and German.

Between other duties the president has traveled over 16,000 miles, giving 156 public addresses.

Money and material for improvements, running expenses, and enlargement of student industry work, extension and preparation of campus, in all amounts to over $16,000 since last June, adding greatly to the value and effectiveness of the school plant.

More than 80 students are paying ten cents a month for foreign missions, besides aiding financially in various churches and young people's societies and outlying towns and communities. A $42 check was sent to aid Miss Fenenga's missionary work in Mardin, Turkey.

To students that have to earn their way and have to work additional hours to make this possible, this relatively small sum stands for considerable sacrifice.

The spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm and mutual helpfulness of both teachers and students has never been more thoroughly felt and appreciated. All teachers work in the spirit of thorough missionary consecration, and practically get nothing but their keep.

Is it strange that the Master blesses this Northern battle?

Redfield College, Redfield, South Dakota

Rev. N. C. Hirschy, President

Redfield College occupies a unique position among the Congregational colleges of the United States, since it is a union of two colleges, Redfield College, founded in 1887, and the German-English College of Wilton Junction, Iowa, the successor of a German proseminary at Crete, Nebraska, founded in the early '80's. The union was effected in 1904.

The German Congregational churches number about 200, and have a membership of over 11,000; and Redfield College is distinctively their college, and the only one in which they have an active share and direct interest. Yet it is not theirs only. That would defeat the very purpose of the college. The English side of the work is equally kept up, and the two nationalities blend to fit them both for larger American citizenship. The two supplement each other. There are not two groups of students in the college after the two nationalities, but all are together in nicest harmony. Four mornings of the week the chapel devotions are conducted in English and one morning in German. One day all sing in German, and the next all in English.

It is particularly gratifying to report so large a group of young men among the students of Redfield College who are preparing themselves for the ministry. Sixteen of the young men of the past year are studying with that end in view. With such work the German churches will not lack for ministers in the future.

This unique position held by Redfield College ought to win for it the interest of the entire Congregational denomination. Located in the midst of the greatest agricultural region known in the United States, and doing what no other college does or at present can do, in that it is reaching out a helping hand to 11,000 Germans already in the church, with more than that many to follow if the proper help can be secured to educate the rising generation in the right way, is it too much to say for this college that no one interested in the future of Congregationalism can afford to be indifferent about the larger welfare of Redfield College?

The twenty-second year of the college was brought to a successful close on June 9. The attendance was an even 200. The teachers employed worked faithfully and in the spirit of self-sacrificing devotion. Harmony and good will prevailed throughout the entire year. A summer school of nine weeks, the first of the kind, is now in session, with an attendance of upwards of 50 students. Five teachers give instruction. The result is gratifying.

Necessary repairs in the men's dormitory are under way, though the money for this purpose is not in hand. It will require about $500 to make these improvements, or the work of the coming year will be greatly hampered. Half as much again will be needed to equip a biological laboratory before the opening of the school year in September. A hundred dollars or two would very greatly increase the usefulness of the library. Electric lights for the dormitory are greatly needed both for a precaution against a second fire and to add to the convenience and the sanitary condition of the building.

President Hirschy was born in 1867 in Indiana (Berne), of Swiss parents. Educated in public schools, in the Tri-State Normal College, Angola, Indiana; later a graduate of Oberlin College and Oberlin Theological Seminary, 1893-98, both A.B. and D.B. Taught in the public schools of Indiana before going to Oberlin; pastor of a church in Ohio nine years; president of Bluffton (O.) College eight years, 1900-08; A.M. from University of Chicago 1906; student in University of Bern, Switzerland, 1906-07, receiving Ph.D.; Redfield, 1908.

Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida

Rev. William Fremont Blackman, Ph.D., President

The events of principal interest at Rollins the past year were the dedication, on February 18, of Carnegie and Chase Halls, the enlargement of the campus, and the installation of a new water supply system.

The two new halls will not only add greatly to our facilities for work, but they are also of singular beauty. Built of gray sand-line brick, with concrete trimmings and red clay-tile roof, in Spanish style, as befits the climate and location, they will themselves be a source of satisfaction and æsthetic culture to the young people who shall see them and work within their walls.

Carnegie Hall was the gift of Mr. Andrew Carnegie, and Chase Hall—a memorial to the late Mr. Loring A. Chase, founder of the town of Winter Park—was erected and furnished from the proceeds of a legacy left to the college by Mr. Chase, supplemented by generous gifts from some fifty of his early and later friends, the largest givers being Mr. Frank G. Webster, president of the banking house of Kidder, Peabody & Company, his son, Mr. Lawrence Webster, and Messrs. Stone and Webster, managers of extensive traction companies in Florida and elsewhere. A number of Mr. Chase's comrades of the 48th Massachusetts Regiment, led by Capt. Charles Hunt and Mr. J. D. Gardner, of Boston, contributed to the furnishing of the hall. This building will be used as a dormitory for young men.

In order to make room for these buildings and for others yet to follow, the young ladies' cottage and the dining hall were removed to new sites and the campus opened out westward along the lake, nearly doubling the space available for use. The new water supply system which was begun last year is now being completed by the installation of an automatic electric pump having a capacity of 25,000 gallons per hour, the gift of a trustee, Mr. W. C. Comstock, of Chicago, and by the erection of a pumping station. Plans for this station contemplate the addition of one wing for a steam laundry and of another for a machine shop. Will not some friend of the college provide funds for these greatly needed improvements?

Mr. Carnegie, in addition to the new building which bears his name, and which is devoted to library and administrative purposes, has offered to provide the sum of $25,000 for the erection of a Science Hall, on condition that the college add an equal sum to the endowment fund for the maintenance of the science department. The effort is now beginning to meet this condition.

A building is also greatly needed for the housing and use of the departments of music, the fine arts, and the domestic and industrial arts. If these two buildings can be secured, the college will be in position to do its work with comfort and efficiency, so far as material equipment goes, for a number of years to come. Its endowment fund, however, ought to be doubled, and extensive additions should be made to its library.

More applications for admission are received every year from Cuba than can be accommodated, and the Cuban students are for the most part well behaved and successful in their studies. Also it is believed that if parents, teachers, and physicians at the North fully understood the climatic and academic advantages possessed by Rollins, hundreds of pupils whose health is impaired and whose life is imperiled by the rigors of winter, and yet more by close confinement in superheated and ill-ventilated schoolrooms, would every year come to us from all parts of the country.

Rollins will celebrate the quarter centennial of its founding next commencement.

PROCTER ACADEMY, PROVO, UTAH, GRADUATING CLASS, '09

UTAH

Rev. S. H. Goodwin, Field Superintendent

THE persistent and insidious activity of the representatives of the most perfect politico-religious organization in existence has made itself felt to an appreciable extent in certain towns where our schools are located.

While there are people in these communities who are too independent to accept dictation with any degree of equanimity, the larger part find it more expedient to "obey counsel"; and while they may, and often do, express a preference for our schools, the exigencies of the case appear to leave no alternative. The statement, "I don't want to leave this school, but the bishop says I must," gives a reason for an unexpected decrease of attendance sometimes which distresses some of our faithful workers.

Coalville

This is one of the strongly Mormon towns in which little in the way of change takes place, but the outlook for another year is better than has been the case for some years.

A new coal mine is to be opened and some other new work is to be undertaken, which will mean movement and an increase of population.

A need of the field is at least occasional preaching services to supplement the Sunday school and personal work carried on by the teachers. Think of it, a community of several hundred people, with coal mines, the mining element, saloons, etc., and no evangelical religious services from year's end to year's end! We have to depend upon the little Sunday school and the influence of the teachers to reach at least some of the children and to make abiding impressions. That our work does this has been demonstrated repeatedly. The value for good of the presence of a wise, sunny, tactful Christian teacher in such a community cannot be overestimated.

Heber

In this place, perhaps more than in any other where we have school work, there is an insistent and persistent opposition to all that we are trying to do. This is not always open, but it is none the less real and effective. The order to leave our school and to attend another is not always bluntly put, but the meaning is clear and the results are certain. Our teachers have met all counter movements by a sweet, steady, Christian spirit, by visitation among the people, by an unobtrusive but effective and appreciative interest in the affairs of the people, by Sunday school work and other instrumentalities. The high school work of a year ago was seriously interfered with by an attempt to carry on county high school work. It is not yet certain that the experiment will be repeated this year. If it is not, there will be a considerable increase in attendance at our school.

Whatever happens, however, our teachers move steadily forward, doing the work at hand, seeking new opportunities of service, and entering more fully into those already theirs.

Lehi

Here, where the population is almost entirely Mormon, our school has had the most satisfactory year of any during the last decade. Miss Porter and her two assistants not only have done splendid work in their crowded schoolrooms, but outside, in the life of the community, they have exerted a positive and most helpful influence. To this the people have responded in various ways, one of which is to be seen in the tasteful iron fence about the property and cement walk in front of the school building, the expense of which was borne almost entirely by the people of the place. But more than all, so far as the work in Lehi is concerned, barriers erected long ago have given way before the steady pressure of the Christian sanity and courtesy of our teachers. Miss Porter, who has been in the Lehi school for five years, has resigned, and Miss Whalley has been transferred from Coalville to Lehi.

ON THE ROAD TO VERNAL, UTAH

GIRLS OF THE EIGHTH GRADE, WILCOX SCHOOL, VERNAL, UTAH

Vernal

Over in Ashley valley, in the extreme eastern part of the state, our most recently established school, Willcox, at Vernal, has given a good account of itself during the year just closed. Rev. Ludwig Thomsen, the principal, is also pastor of the Kingsbury Church, and though so busy in church and school he yet finds time to touch the life of the community through such other channels as the Commercial Club, the public library board, and other organizations. Mr. Thomsen's two years of service in Vernal emphasize the importance of keeping him in that field; he is the right man for both church and school. The work is carried on at a disadvantage, owing to the fact that the school building is not nearly large enough to provide room for all departments of the work; hence the necessity of using the church building for high school and some other classes. It is earnestly hoped that this serious handicap will be removed by an addition to the present building, so that this school may more fully enter upon its enlarging opportunities.

Procter Academy

To Procter Academy this has been, in some respects, the most significant year in all its history. November 20, 1908, marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this institution, and plans were made to celebrate that event in a fitting manner. The silver anniversary exercises suggested to some of the substantial citizens that the present was an opportune time for Provo to express itself concerning this school. Accordingly, one man set about collecting a little silver offering, the same to be known as the "clean-up fund," and to be used for freshening some of the rooms of the school building. When the two hundred dollar mark had been passed, some one suggested that money be raised to help pay for a dormitory lot. Two business men took up the matter, and in half a day collected something over $900 for this purpose; all this was done without so much as a suggestion from any worker connected with the school. On the evening of the celebration, and while the program was being given, a prominent attorney of the city stepped forward and poured out upon the table two hundred silver dollars, which he designated as the "clean-up fund" and presented to the school. While the principal was accepting this gift for the school and the Education Society, he was interrupted by one of the two men who had charge of the dormitory fund, and the men came forward with a large bag between them and added over nine hundred silver dollars to those already on the table.

The real significance of this event lay not in the money given, much as that would mean to the school, but in the fact that so far as the donors were concerned all lines were obliterated; Mormon, Jew, and Gentile appeared to find equal pleasure in giving. Almost one-half of those who contributed the $1,122 were Mormons, and one contribution came from the local society of the young people's organization of the Mormon church.

The faithful, consecrated service of the men and women who have wrought in this school during the past twenty-five years—has it paid? Evidently the people of Provo believe it has; ask them. Has it been worth while for generous friends to put money into this work during all these years? In the light of the silver anniversary exercises of Procter Academy, can any one return a negative answer? And what of the future of this school? Is it to have one of its great needs met in a dormitory that shall provide accommodations for the young people who desire to come to us, and cannot because suitable provision is not made for them? The people of Provo have purchased a lot for this building and have deeded it to the Education Society, and have placed nearly $350 in the bank as their present contribution to the dormitory fund.

While writing the above lines I was interrupted to answer questions of a friend of a Nevada family that wishes to send five children to us, three of whom would enter academic classes. The very first question was, "Have you a dormitory?" This question comes to me so often from different parts of Utah. Must the answer continue to be, "No"?

YOUNG MEXICAN WOMAN, CUBERO, NEW MEXICO

NEW MEXICO

Rev. J. H. Heald, Field Superintendent

THE work of our teachers, characterized as it always is by the qualities of devotion and self-sacrifice, has been so to an unusual degree this year. Most of the Mexican towns have been visited by severe epidemics of diphtheria and scarlet fever.

These epidemics are to be expected every few years, the last serious one having occurred six years ago. They pass through the Mexican country like forest fires through the dry woods, devouring everything combustible in their pathway. After the passage of such an epidemic there is no likelihood of its repetition for a number of years, simply because the material on which it could operate has been used up, about twenty-five per cent of the children being dead and the rest immune. About one hundred children have died of infectious diseases the past year in the towns where our schools are. But for the courageous work of our teachers the number would have been still larger.

A little progress in this epidemic over preceding ones has been seen in the matter of quarantine. At Cubero, owing to the activity of the Jewish trader, Mr. Emil Bibb, as health officer, a creditable effort in that direction was made. But there is still a lamentable degree of neglect in this particular.

New Mexico needs a better health ordinance and better machinery for enforcing it. Your superintendent is seriously thinking of doing some lobbying at the next session of the territorial legislature to bring this about. Much effort has been put forth by the teachers to inculcate a correct idea with regard to contagious and infectious diseases, but progress is slow. A more systematic effort will be made in the future to instruct the pupils in the principles of physiology and hygiene. To that end each school should be provided with an up-to-date series of physiological charts.

The past year has witnessed considerable improvement in the public schools alongside ours in the Mexican towns, especially so at San Rafael, where a former teacher in our own school has been employed, and at Cubero, where a graduate of the normal department of the university has been in charge. In the latter place a new schoolhouse has been built, and for the first time the school is suitably housed. The attitude of our teachers toward the public schools is one of friendliness and encouragement.

Much has been done in industrial lines the past year. The following are the principal things taught in the different schools: paper cutting, folding, and weaving; scrapbook making; cardboard modeling; clay modeling; card sewing; drawing and painting; spool knitting; needlework: different stitches, as running stitch, overcast, hemming, etc.; button bags, patchwork, several complete quilts made, dolls' clothes, aprons, dresses, embroidery, drawn work; weaving worsted mats; basketry: raffia mats, raffia and reed baskets; woodwork: pencil boxes, picture frames, small chairs and tables.

It is our aim to systematize this work during the coming year and develop a uniform course in industrial training preparing for and leading up to the industrial school, which is destined to become from now on the central object of our work.

The following is a brief report of the work in the several schools:

Atrisco

Miss Moore's ten years of faithful service are in evidence in the sterling character of this school. It takes time to make a school out of the raw and undisciplined material furnished by the Mexican town. Knowing what I do of the conditions, I realize that this quiet, earnest, disciplined school is the product of time and toil, patience and perseverance. During its history this school has had 412 different children under instruction. 82 have been enrolled this year. Attendance has at times been much interrupted by the prevailing epidemics of mumps, diphtheria, and scarlet fever. Nevertheless the school has not been closed a single day. With the prevailing customs among the Mexicans about visiting the sick, we have found that the children are less exposed to disease in school than when turned loose and allowed to roam about, so it has not been our custom to close the schools on account of prevailing epidemics. In this case our policy has been justified by the fact that among the many deaths in Atrisco not a single pupil of our school was included.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL GIRLS, CUBERO, NEW MEXICO

Progress in the use of English has been very gratifying. The superintendent has found that he could address the pupils in the higher room in English with good results, while even the little folks in the primary room could take it in small doses.

Cubero

Mrs. Collings, after years of unstinted toil for this school and people, has been taking a well-earned rest for a year. In her absence Miss Collings has efficiently filled the place of principal.

This school, which has been noted for its steady habits of attendance and application, has been seriously interrupted and at times entirely suspended because of the severe epidemic of scarlet fever prevailing. There were 18 deaths from the disease, of which 6 were of pupils in the school. During the latter part of the school year Miss Collings gave herself up largely to the care and medical treatment of the sick, under direction of our medical missionary, Dr. Hess, personally attending also to the disinfection of the houses after sickness. Her ministry was not without result in the saving of life and in winning the gratitude of the people. One of the older girls was so touched by the teacher's ministrations to her little brother that she volunteered to assist her in the care of the sick when her hands were too full. The total enrollment for the year was 76. One hundred and twenty-five different persons attended Sunday school during the year.

San Mateo

A year ago Miss Lamson, who has so long been the efficient principal of this school, changed her name to Mrs. Dunn, but has continued the work with the same efficiency and devotion as of yore. She has been ably assisted by Miss Effie Ruth Stillians, who brought to the work thorough training and earnest consecration.

Prominent features of the school life this year have been moral training through the morning devotional exercises, and manual and industrial training occupying one hour and twenty minutes each day. This school has done much in industrial lines in previous years. This year the acquisition of a kit of tools enabled it to introduce carpentry. The achievements of the boys in their little attempts at carpenter work do much credit both to themselves and their lady instructors.

Midwinter found the school in prosperous condition, with 85 pupils in attendance. January 10 the epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever struck the town, and struck it hard. There were 62 cases, 21 of which terminated fatally. The hearts of the faithful teachers were filled with grief and their hands with ministering. They doctored the sick, helped to bury the dead, and did their best to prevent the living from spreading the disease. Their inability to do this more effectually has been their constant grief. But what would the poor people have done without them?

Notwithstanding these manifold labors the school was kept up. At the end of the year the pestilence abated, and at his last visit in May the superintendent found an unusually good number in attendance for that season. On that occasion a very pretty flag drill was given, well calculated to stimulate patriotism. Credit for the suggestion and the flags is due to Mrs. Zabriskie, of New York, who at the time of her visit in the fall promised a gift to the school if they would sing "America" and salute the flag once a week. Her gift of a crayon portrait of Washington now adorns the walls, and the little flags she sent are waved by enthusiastic and (let us hope) patriotic hands.

NEW MEXICO, A NATIVE OVEN

San Rafael

Notwithstanding the gratifying improvement in the public school of the town the past year, our own school has not lacked for numbers, over 100 having been enrolled.

The epidemic took toll of this as of other towns, but notwithstanding all obstacles a good year's work has been done. Through Miss Drake's efficient work in the primary room 6 pupils were promoted to the higher room at Christmas and 13 more at the end of the year. Marked progress has been manifest among the older pupils in the use of English, some speaking it quite fluently.

In going about among the people, Miss Frost, who understands their language perfectly, hears many encouraging things showing the growing interest in education among parents and pupils. She notes great advance over the conditions existing at the time of her previous service in this school. One of her former pupils, now a woman with children of her own, came to her and said:

"Oh, I want to thank you for what you did for me in those days. I didn't know enough to do it then, but I do now."

An interesting innovation was introduced at Christmas when the pupils presented their parents gifts made by them in the school.

Attendance and interest in Sunday school have been good.

Seboyeta

Dr. Hess has devoted her time mostly to her medical work and has steadily won her way in the confidence of the people. Latterly she has extended the sphere of her activities to other villages. Her strong personality and fine professional ability promised to do much for our work and for the people. It is to be regretted that the serious illness of her sister makes it necessary for her to withdraw from our work, at least for a time.

The school has been well conducted by Miss Montoya, who is educationally the product of the mission schools, primarily of the Seboyeta school and later of the Presbyterian Girls' School at Santa Fé. The school has been small, the largest enrollment at any one time being 35; but the average attendance has been closer to the enrollment than in any other school, while progress in their studies has been creditable alike to pupils and teacher.

Rio Grande Industrial School

The school opened last fall under difficulties, owing to protracted delay in completing the main school building. Notwithstanding almost insuperable obstacles a plucky start was made. 32 pupils were enrolled during the year. Even with the disadvantages under which our teachers labored it was abundantly demonstrated that such a school can do great things for the pupils. All made good progress, and some made phenomenal headway. One boy of twelve entered in the third grade and at the end of the year was promoted from the fifth. In addition to his studies he read nine books. Some who were not particularly apt with books made good headway in industrial lines, as one girl of sixteen, who became as expert a cook as she was dull a student. One boy who had been running the streets learned to run three different kinds of engines reliably and well.

Several boys and girls are working through the vacation to earn their tuition for next year.

The school will enter another year with a very fair equipment and with great promise. The buildings will accommodate 40 pupils. There are 160 acres of land, most of which waits for the hand of development, about 20 acres being in alfalfa, hay, crops, and garden. Sorghum, cowpeas, soja beans, fruit, melons, and all kinds of garden stuff will be the crops this year. A dairy of seven Jersey cows give milk, while five Jersey heifers give promise for the future. One pair of mules and three horses help to make things go. An apiary of twenty hives of bees helps to keep us sweet. Now if somebody will give us the money for shops and industrial equipment, we will make things hum.

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I

-NAME

THIS Society shall be called the CONGREGATIONAL EDUCATION SOCIETY.

ARTICLE II

OBJECT

The object of the Society is the promotion of Christian Education by assisting needy young men of piety and ability in acquiring an education for the gospel ministry; by aiding theological and collegiate institutions, academies, and other schools in which children and youth are trained under Christian teachers; and by the employment of any kindred agencies which may be deemed desirable.

ARTICLE III

MEMBERSHIP AND REPRESENTATION

The members of the Society shall be LIFE members, ANNUAL members, and HONORARY members.

Life Members. At each annual meeting the Society shall elect so many Life members as shall cause the whole number to approximate but not exceed two hundred: and all present Life members of the Congregational Education Society and Corporate members of the Congregational New West Education Commission shall be Life members of this Society.

Annual Members. Any Congregational church which has within the financial year contributed to the funds of the Society may appoint one delegate to the annual meeting, and such delegates shall be members of the Society for the year for which they were appointed.

Voting Members. All Life members and Annual members who shall be present shall be entitled to vote at the meetings of the Society.

Honorary Members. Any person on whose behalf fifty dollars shall be paid to the Society, accompanied with the request for Honorary membership, may be an Honorary member for life on approval by the Society; and all present Honorary members of the Congregational Education Society and Life members of the Congregational New West Education Commission shall be Honorary members of this Society.

ARTICLE IV

MEETINGS

The annual meeting of the Society shall be on the second Wednesday in June, unless otherwise voted by the Directors. Twelve members shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of the Society.

Special meetings shall be called by the Secretary at the written request of five voting members; and of any such meeting notice shall be given, with mention of the time, place, and object of the same, by publication in two consecutive numbers of Congregational papers, one being published in Boston, the other in Chicago.

ARTICLE V

OFFICERS

The officers of the Society shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary or Secretaries, a Treasurer, an Auditor, and eighteen Directors, of whom ten at least shall be residents of Boston and vicinity, and six at least residents of Chicago and vicinity. All of the foregoing officers shall be annually chosen by ballot, except as hereinafter provided and shall hold office until others are chosen in their places. The Directors shall be divided into three classes of six each, and at each annual meeting six Directors shall be elected for a term of three years to fill the places of those whose terms shall have expired.

ARTICLE VI

PRESIDENT

The President and Vice-President shall perform the duties usually assigned to such officers. They are constituted members ex officio of the Board of Directors. The President, jointly with the Treasurer, shall sign, execute, acknowledge, and deliver in the name of and in behalf of the Society any and all deeds or any other conveyances or instruments in writing relating to any real estate owned by the Society, to such parties as the Directors by their vote shall authorize.

ARTICLE VII

SECRETARY

The Secretary or Secretaries shall have charge of the correspondence; shall keep the records of the meetings of the Society; shall make known, by personal presentation, correspondence, and otherwise, to state and local Associations and Conferences, to churches and individuals, the objects and needs of the Society; shall notify all meetings of the Society and of the Board of Directors; shall obtain the fullest possible information respecting all applicants for aid, whether students or institutions; shall furnish for the presiding officer at each meeting a docket of the matters to be considered; and shall prepare an annual report of the work of the Society, and submit the same to the Directors before the annual meeting.

ARTICLE VIII

TREASURER

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive all money contributed or entrusted to the Society and to give receipts therefor; to deposit it to the credit of the Society in such bank or institution as may be designated by the Finance Committee; to keep clear and accurate account of all sums received and expended by the Society; to make payments and remittances in accordance with the appropriations voted by the Board of Directors; to pay all bills and debts of the Society when approved by the chairman of the Finance Committee, and to pay over to the designated beneficiaries or other proper persons any and all special contributions and dues; to indorse checks and drafts for deposit and sign checks for the purposes of the Society; to report to the Finance Committee and Board of Directors each month the receipts and disbursements for the previous month, and at the end of the fiscal year for the year, and to keep all books of account required by them; and to perform such other acts as are necessary to the faithful execution of the duties of his office.

His books of account and vouchers for payments shall at all times be open to the inspection of any member of the Board of Directors and shall be submitted by him each month to the Finance Committee for their examination.

It shall be his duty to present to the Standing and Special Committees and to the Board of Directors such financial business as needs their action.

He shall jointly with the President sign, execute, acknowledge, and deliver in behalf of the Society any and all deeds or any other conveyances and instruments, in writing, relating to any real estate owned by the Society and in its name, to such parties as the Directors shall authorize.

The Treasurer shall also release and discharge mortgages, assignments, insurance policies, and other necessary papers when properly authorized.

He shall give bonds for the faithful discharge of his duties with such sureties as shall be satisfactory to the Directors.

The Directors may from time to time appoint an Assistant Treasurer and define his powers and duties, which may include any or all duties given by law or this Constitution to the Treasurer.

The Assistant Treasurer shall hold office during the pleasure of the Board of Directors, and the office may be filled or left vacant.

ARTICLE IX

AUDITOR

The Auditor shall audit all accounts of the Treasurer and examine the invested funds of the Society and give to the Directors in writing his certificate as to the correctness of the same.

ARTICLE X

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors shall have charge of all affairs and manage all business of the Society concerning which no other provision is made. They shall appoint committees to examine students applying for assistance, and shall take such action upon their recommendations as they may deem wise. They shall determine what institutions shall be aided, and shall grant them money as the state of the treasury may permit. They may by vote authorize the sale or conveyance of any real estate the Society may own, to such person or persons and upon such terms as they may determine; such conveyances to be signed, executed, acknowledged, and delivered in the name of and in behalf of the Society by the President and Treasurer, as hereinbefore provided. They shall have authority to make such rules as they may deem best in regard to the calling of meetings of the Board and the number that shall constitute a quorum; to choose an Institutions Committee and a Student Aid Committee, upon whose recommendations the Board may take such action as they may judge expedient; to appoint a Finance Committee, one of whose duties shall be the making of investments. They shall also have power to appoint District or Field Secretaries, or establish any agency which they may consider necessary, and shall have power to fill, until the next annual meeting, any vacancy in their own number or in any office of the Society. The Board of Directors shall present a report of the work of the Society at each annual meeting. The meetings of the Board shall ordinarily be held in Boston. At least one meeting in each year shall be held in Chicago. All meetings shall be held in the office of the Society, either at Boston or Chicago, unless otherwise ordered.

The Western members of the Board, that is, members residing west of the state of New York, may hold stated meetings of their section at such times as they may appoint; and they may, whenever they see fit, designate one of their number to attend any meeting of the Directors to be held in Boston, and his traveling expenses may be paid by the Society; and the Eastern members shall have the right, in like manner and upon the same terms, to designate two of their number to attend any similar meeting to be held in Chicago.

ARTICLE XI

AMENDMENTS

This Constitution may be changed by a vote of two-thirds of the members present and entitled to vote at any meeting of the Society duly called and organized, notice of the proposed change being given in the call of the meeting at which action is to be taken.

RULES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 12, 1904

RULE 1. Organization. The Board of Directors shall assemble for organization on the Monday after the annual meeting of the Society, notice of the meeting being sent by the Secretary of the Society. They shall elect by ballot a Chairman and a Clerk, a Finance Committee, an Institutions Committee, a Student Aid Committee, each of which shall have six members, besides the President and Vice-President, who shall be ex officio members of all committees.

RULE 2. Meetings. The Directors shall hold regular meetings on the second Monday of each month, excepting that the August meeting may be omitted by vote of the Directors. Special meetings shall be called at the written request of three Directors, by giving three days' notice, by letter, to each member of the Board, stating the time, place, and object of the meeting. Seven Directors shall constitute a quorum.

RULE 3. Committees. Within two weeks after the election of the Finance, Institutions, and Student Aid Committees a meeting of each of them shall be held in Boston, at which a Chairman and a Clerk shall be elected by ballot. Such meeting shall be called by the Clerk of the Board of Directors, who shall notify each member seven days, at least, before the meeting. Each of said committees shall hold a regular monthly meeting, except in August, and the Clerk's records and all reports or abstracts of them, or copy of them, shall be kept in the rooms of the Society, in the care of the Secretary, and be open to the examination of the Directors. Other meetings of any of the said committees shall be held whenever the Chairman or any two members shall so request the Clerk in writing provided notice of the time and place of the meeting is mailed or delivered to each member one day, at least, before the meeting. At any of the meetings aforesaid three members shall constitute a quorum.

RULE 4. Finance Committee. It shall be the duty of the Finance Committee to cause to be kept a book, wherein shall be set forth in detail: (1) all stocks and bonds owned by the Society, at par, with a statement of the original cost of the same to the Society; (2) all real estate (both land and buildings) and other property of the Society, with the full cost of the same; and (3) all property held on special deposit or in trust. This book shall be at all times open to the inspection of any member of the Board of Directors, and the record shall be so amended from time to time, under the direction of the Finance Committee, as to show at all times a correct statement of the property of the Society and of any special trusts in its hands. All title deeds to real estate, mortgages, insurance policies, and certificates of stocks and bonds owned by the Society shall be in the care and custody of the Treasurer, under the direction of this committee, who shall provide a proper place for their safe keeping. They shall also, when occasion requires, direct the sale and transfer of stocks, bonds or mortgages, invest any surplus, or other specific funds of the Society, and in general, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors, shall have the charge of the Society's financial concerns not otherwise provided for. But no investment shall be made without the approval by affirmative vote, or in writing, if otherwise, of at least four members of the committee. The chairman of the committee shall approve all bills before payment thereof by the Treasurer.

RULE 5. Institutions Committee. The Institutions Committee shall keep a book of all institutions aided by the Society and the amount granted to each, and make recommendations to the Directors of the institutions which should receive aid. The committee may also be divided into subcommittees, who may investigate and advise upon particular institutions intrusted to them.

RULE 6. The Student Aid Committee. The Student Aid Committee shall keep a book, containing the names of all students aided by the Society and the amount of the several grants; also recommend to the Directors those whom they approve for aid. The committee may likewise be divided into subcommittees for purposes of investigation and advice.

RULE 7. Western Members. The Western members will be expected to give counsel upon the appropriation of money for such academies and schools, and they shall once, at least, each year transmit to the Board at Boston a summary statement of the condition and requirements of the Society's work, as viewed by them, and this statement shall be a special topic of consideration at the first meeting of the Board after its reception.

No action shall be taken at a meeting held in either section of the country in respect to which the judgment of the members resident in the other section is specially needed, unless seasonable notice shall have been given that such action is contemplated.

A full and attested copy of the record of each meeting of the Board of Directors held in Boston shall be immediately forwarded to Chicago, and shall be either filed or transcribed in such a manner as to form a permanent record at Chicago; and an attested record of the doings of each meeting of the Board held at Chicago shall be entered upon the permanent record of the Board in Boston. A summary statement of the business done at each meeting of the members of the Western section of the Board shall also be promptly transmitted to Boston.

RULE 8. Absences. Any Eastern Director who shall be absent from one-third of the stated meetings of the Board held during any one year at Boston, or any Western Director who shall be absent from one-third of the stated meetings held during any one year at Chicago, including the meetings of the Board and of the Western section of the Board, unless excused for such absence for adequate reason by the Board or its Western section, as the case may be, shall be deemed to have vacated his office as Director, and the vacancy thus created shall be filled by the election of some other person at the next annual meeting of the Society.

RULE 9. Grants to Students. Applications for scholarships granted by this Society to students for the ministry are approved under the following rules and conditions.

(a) The Society wishes to aid young men of ability and promise who are studying in preparation for the ministry, and who are in need of assistance. The Directors rely largely upon the men themselves, who are thus aided, for assurance that their need of help is real, that they are prudent, economical in the use of money, and that they are shaping their habits of life in a manner becoming to those who are to be teachers and leaders in the Christian church, and specifically abstaining from the use of intoxicants and tobacco.

(b) To receive a grant a student in college must have reached the grade of sophomore, and must have maintained a standard in scholarship of seventy-five per cent, or an equivalent degree under varying marking systems. A beneficiary in a theological seminary must be a graduate of some college of good standing, or a man of such qualifications and promise as may largely compensate for the lack of a college course. The Directors may make grants in special cases to students outside these regular classifications.

(c) It is optional with the student whether the grant be a loan or a gift. If taken as a loan the student shall forward his note for the amount. Such notes, if paid within three years after entering the ministry, shall bear no interest, but from that time they shall bear interest at three per cent.

(d) Scholarships are assigned for one year only. Renewal must be secured by a new application each year, but may not be obtained beyond six consecutive years. The amount of the regular scholarship at present is fifty (50) dollars per annum, payable in two equal installments, December 1 and April 1. Applications should be forwarded to the Secretary before November 1 or March 1.

(e) The Board of Directors shall appoint examining committees, consisting of three persons each at different institutions, throughout the country to make careful inquiry concerning the applicant's religious character, credentials, his motives for seeking the ministry, his abilities, attainments, and promise, also his need of pecuniary aid and his willingness to conform to the rules of the Society. The Directors must depend almost entirely upon the personal estimates which are furnished by the committees appointed for that purpose in the colleges and seminaries with which these students are connected, therefore they expect that these estimates are prepared with carefulness from individual knowledge, and express distinctly the personal judgment of those from whom they come. If the committee decide to recommend an applicant they shall direct him to state in the form of application his name, age, residence, place of education, church membership, need of assistance, and any other facts which may be deemed important.

If there is no regular examining committee in the institution which a student desiring assistance is attending, the Secretary of the Society may be notified of his wish for assistance and a special committee be appointed to examine him.

(f) Before receiving a grant the applicant must give expression to his purpose of devoting his life to the Christian ministry and of taking a full course of theological education, promising that if he shall change his purpose of entering the ministry, he will, within three years after the date of the latest payment, and unless especially released by the Directors for good reasons shown, repay to the Society the whole amount of money received, with three per cent interest on the same from the time of receiving it.

(g) The income which shall provide for the payment of scholarships shall be derived from the interest upon invested funds given for this purpose, and from the gifts of the churches and of special friends for the same object. A gift of one thousand dollars ($1,000), constituting a permanent fund, of which the interest alone shall be used, shall bear the name of the donor, or such name as he may assign. The income of such a fund shall be at once and perpetually applied to the support of a student in prosecuting his studies for the ministry. Such a donor may name a student as the recipient of such a scholarship, provided his application is duly made and approved according to the regulations of the Society. The Society will act as the almoner for any benevolent individuals who desire to assist worthy young men to prepare for the ministry or to procure a Christian education, and will take charge of any funds intrusted to it for this purpose, applying them for the objects and persons designated.

RULE 10. Grants to Institutions. The rules and conditions under which the Society will aid an institution are :

1. It must present to the Directors a certified copy of its act of incorporation.
2. A certified copy of its by-laws.
3. The names of its trustees and number of its students of its several classes.
4. An abstract of title of the property to be covered by mortgage.

5. It must have secured in fee simple and unencumbered, sufficient ground for buildings and campus and assets in buildings, or in money, or in both, to the amount of $5,000.

6. No appropriation voted by the Board of Directors is payable to any institution which shall not prior to such payment have furnished to the Secretary evidence that the property is adequately insured.

7. The institution must be indorsed by the State Association or Conference of the Congregational churches, and by the local Association or Conference within the bounds of whose territory it is located, and it must annually report to the State Association or Conference and have the continued approval of the same so long as it receives aid from the Society.

8. No college will be aided until it has a freshman class of at least four students, and all other institutions must have such a number of students and such status as shall afford evidence of permanency. Every academy must be prepared to give thorough preparation for college.

9. It shall be the duty of the president or principal of each institution that receives aid from the Society to report to the Directors at least annually the financial condition of the institution, the number of its students, and all such facts in regard to its prosperity as it may be desirable for the Directors to know.

10. As the preparation, execution, and approval of the papers require time, the institution should notify the Board of Directors of this Society when the institution will be ready for the payment, and should forward papers named above three months before payment is expected to be made.

11. The time for the Board of Directors voting upon applications for current expenses is their regular meeting on the second Monday in June.

12. Application for aid must be made by a formal vote of corporate board of trustees of the institution, who must also give to this Society a first mortgage, with the usual covenants and power to foreclose (unless such action be illegal by the laws of the state), which must also be recorded, on its building and real estate to cover the sum which has been given or may be given to this institution, in case of a failure to carry out the conditions upon which such appropriations are made, namely :

(a) The institution must be and continue under the control of a self-perpetuating board of trustees, a majority of whom shall always be members in good and regular standing in a Congregational church.

(b) Every school and college aided by this Society must maintain the characteristics of a vitally Christian institution. It is expected that special attention will be given to the study of the Bible and to development of Christian character in the pupils, and that every president and principal shall be members of an evangelical church.

(c) All money received from the Society (except such as may have been designated by the donor or by unanimous vote of the Directors for other use) must be applied by the institution to the payment of salaries, to purchase of books, apparatus, or permanent endowment of chairs of instruction according to the instructions of the Directors.

(d) On failure to carry out any of the above named conditions, or in case the trustees in their management of an institution become subject to political or ecclesiastical control other than Congregational, or shall in any way be diverted from the policy of the said Congregational Education Society, as at present defined in its charter and by-laws, the Society may demand repayment of all sums advanced, and enter and foreclose their mortgage on the property.

13. In order to secure the early occupation of promising fields, and also to exert a more direct influence through the agency of Christian education in sections not yet provided with good common schools, this Society may establish and temporarily maintain academies, training and other schools in localities where it would not be possible or advisable to create local corporations. These it may own, manage, and control, with the ultimate purpose of placing them under the care of self-perpetuating boards of trustees or of disposing of them as the best interests of Christian education may seem to demand.

14. All institutions aided by the Society, either through their federation with the Society by states or by direct grants from the general fund, shall be treated as institutions under the care of the Society. The Society may also act as almoner for individual donors to institutions in the above classes and for other specified Congregational institutions.

RULE II. Amendments. These rules may be changed by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting at any regular meeting of the Directors, notice of the proposed amendment having been given in writing at a previous meeting and in the call sent out for such meeting.
